

CHARLIE DERBER

SPEAKING TO HIS NEW BOOK

MARX'S GHOST

MIDNIGHT CONVERSATIONS ON CHANGING THE WORLD

Soaring above the hot air of politicians seeking office and the self-serving free-market rhetoric of the 1%, new voices are making themselves heard, challenging social inequality and environment destruction while calling for social change. In doing so, they recall Karl Marx project and the social movements of working people everywhere. But, does Marx have anything to say to them? Charlie offers a considered, "Yes," to this question by drawing Marx's ghost into dialogue w/ Milton Friedman, John Maynard Keynes, & even Hyman Minsky. By exploring the current crisis, new movements, localism, *alter*globalization, and the new socialist experiments in Latin America, Charlie & Karl offer us fresh insights and new directions.

Now its our turn, three activist thinkers--solidarity unionist Genevieve Butler, #Occupy's Brian Kwoba, and pro-immigrant activist Alexandra Pineros Shields--will join Charlie in conversation and reflect of how we can engage our communities and retrack our world.

FEATURING DISCUSSANTS

ALEXANDRA PINEROS SHIELDS

GENEVIEVE BUTLER

BRIAN KWOPA

THURSDAY EVENING
FEBRUARY 9, 2012
7:00 PM @ e5

33 HARRISON AVE, 5TH FLOOR
BOSTON, MA 02111

www.encuentro5.org - 888-400-1225

Sponsors: OB Free School University,
Howard Zinn Memorial Lecture,
Massachusetts Global Action

